Important Update

- A brief report on the current condition of our baby spinach produce due to the ongoing rainfall in Victoria. Unfortunately, the recent intense rainfall may have impacted the quality of the baby spinach for the remainder of this week.
- Although we aim to provide the highest possible quality, we also aim to be transparent about the impact of weather conditions on our baby spinach. Please acknowledge that it may not adhere to our normal standards of quality during this period.
- We greatly value your patience and continued support. We value your commitment to us and be assured that we are constantly aiming to minimise any impact on the level of quality of our products. Should you have any concerns or enquiries, kindly reach out to our customer service team.
